Linking Europe and Asia across the Bosphorus Strait in north-western Turkey, the country’s capital city of Istanbul is a beguiling cultural blend of East and West. Visit the twin architectural gems of Aya Sofia and the Blue Mosque – masterpieces of Byzantine design, decorated with exquisite inlaid mosaic patterns; take in the lavish quarters and dazzling gem collection of the Topkapi Palace, home to Turkey’s sultans and their families for centuries; or visit the enthralling Basilica Cistern, Istanbul’s ancient water reservoir, now evocatively revamped with ethereal lighting and background music sources. More frivolous pursuits include trawling the Grand Bazaar’s stash of beautifully crafted goods for traditional Turkish kilims and wooden backgammon boards inlaid with mother-of-pearl detail or indulging in fine dining or Mediterranean meze at one of the many eateries in trendy Beyoglu.

Day 3: Best Western Hotel Plus The President Hotel, Istanbul
(Sun, 19 April)

Day Itinerary
After breakfast departure to the historical peninsula of Istanbul, former Constantinople. City tour including a visit to the Hagia Sophia, a masterpiece of Byzantine architecture from the 6th century. We will also visit one of the amazing Cisterns, one of several hundred built beneath Constantinople in the 6th century to supply water to the city. We will learn about the spectacular games once held at the Hippodrome and see the Blue Mosque. In the afternoon, we will drive along the impressive Theodosian city walls built in the 5th century and recognized as one of the most effective defensive structures in history. You will notice many leather shops, the tanneries have been moved from here only a few years ago, but the shops remained. We will also see some “bostan”, small agricultural fields loved by the locals, where fruit and vegetable is still grown and have a panoramic tour of the Golden Horn. Evening for leisure or optional program. Overnight in Istanbul.

Hagia Sophia
Hagia Sophia occupies a prominent place in the history of art and architecture. It is one of the rare works of this size and age that has survived to our day. It is dedicated to Divine Wisdom. The outer appearance is not elegant; it was built as a shell, without much care for proportions. On the other hand, the interior is as splendid and captivating as a palace. As a whole, it is an "imperial" structure. Among the major restorations at later times were the buttresses built by architect Sinan in the 16th century and the restoration by the Fossati brothers in 1947-49. Hagia Sophia was converted into a museum by Ataturk order in 1935 after three years of restorations.

Blue Mosque
The Blue Mosque (called Sultanahmet Camii in Turkish) is an historical mosque in Istanbul. The mosque is known as the Blue Mosque because of blue tiles surrounding the walls of interior design. Mosque was built between 1609 and 1616 years, during the rule of Ahmed I. just like many other mosques, it also comprises a tomb of the founder, a madrasa and a hospice. Besides still used as a mosque, the Sultan Ahmed Mosque has also become a popular tourist attraction in Istanbul.

Byzantine Hippodrome
The idea for the hippodrome originally came from Emperor Septimius Severus in 203. He came to Byzantium to beat down a rebellion in a Roman civil war, after which he raised the city walls, slaughtered most of the inhabitants, and introduced an arena for chariot races and other entertainment. But it wasn't until the arrival of Emperor Constantine the Great in 324 that the hippodrome got its final shape. One of his greatest accomplishments was the renovation and enlargement of the existing hippodrome. The new u-shaped track was about 450 meters long and 130 meters wide, surrounded by a stadium with a capacity of approximately 100.000. Constantine also connected the emperor's box (kathisma) to the then nearby Byzantine Great Palace via a passage which could only be used by the emperor and his family.

We will visit one of the largest fruit exporters (or seed growers). Dinner and overnight in Bursa.

Lying in the foothills of the dramatic Mount Uludağ near the Sea of Marmara in northwest Turkey, the large city of Bursa has been dubbed 'Green Bursa' in reference to its many parks, gardens and vast surrounding forests. It is also known for its many ancient mosques and historical sites from the early Ottoman Empire. Day 5: Spa Hotel Colossae Thermal, Pamukkale (Tue, 21 April)

Day Itinerary
While driving through the fertile hinterland, you will notice the importance of agriculture in this area. We will visit a family owned, but large dairy farm using drone technology (for fodder production) and see vast vineyards on our way to one of the unique natural wonders in the world, Pamukkale (meaning Cotton Castle). Hot thermal springs cascading downhill have created a one of a kind landscape resembling a frozen waterfall. Mankind has realized the curing means of this unique source early in history. Thus, the ancient spa town of Hierapolis evolved. It became one of the early Christian Centres of the world. Upon arrival in Pamukkale, we will visit the amazing travertine terraces and the ancient city including the spring and ancient pool, where the original columns can be seen in the water. Dinner and overnight in Pamukkale (Karahayit).

In Turkey’s Aegean region, north of Denizli, you’ll find Pamukkale: justifiably one of the most historically relevant and visually arresting places in the country. Over millennia, the calcium oxide-rich waters flowing down the slope of Caldag to the north of the village, gradually built up deposits of white travertine on the plateau below, dotted with no less than 17 hot springs. The pale splendour of Pamukkale, or ‘Cotton Castle’ as it is dubbed, is visible from the town of Denizli, a full 20 kilometres away. Together with Hierapolis (the ancient city on which it was built, with its ruins still visible today), Pamukkale has been declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Make sure to see the ancient ruins of Aphrodiasia and Laodicea and, as day-tripping crowds dwindle, spectacular sunsets over the snow-coloured mineral terraces.

Overnight: Spa Hotel Colossae Thermal
The Spa Hotel Colossae Thermal is perfectly located 5 km from Pamukkale and just a few minutes from the ancient city ruins and the travertines of Pamukkale. The hotel boasts comfortable rooms and suites with modern amenities including minibars, safes, air conditioning and LCD TVs. 24-hour room service is available. The hotel’s restaurant and bar are well suited for special celebrations such as cocktails, dinners and anniversaries. Guests can enjoy rejuvenating treatments in the beauty and wellness centre. The hotel features a garden which is ideal for activities and games such as football, basketball, table tennis and swimming.

Hierapolis
Hierapolis, whose name means "sacred city," was believed by the ancients to have been founded by the god Apollo. It was famed for its sacred hot springs, whose vapors were associated with Pluto, god of the underworld. The city also had a significant Jewish community and was mentioned by Paul in his Letter to Colossians.

Today, Hierapolis is a World Heritage Site and popular tourist destination. In addition to interesting Classical ruins, the site offers a thermal Sacred Pool in which you can swim with ancient artefacts, a view of the spectacular white terraces of Pamukkale, and a good museum.

the most important trade and cultural centres of the world, but also utmost important for the spread of Christianity.
St. Paul visited Ephesus during all of his travels, St. John wrote his bible here, he took Holy Mary to Ephesus after Jesus’ crucification, both of them died here. During our tour we will see the Harbour street that was illuminated in these times, the magnificent theatre, the Marble Street, the unique Celsus Library, the Hadrian Gate, Agora, Odeon and many more impressive monuments.

Dinner and overnight in Kusadasi, one of the most reknown resorts on the Aegean coast.

Perched on Turkey’s Aegean coast, Kusadasi – with its stellar facilities, sun-drenched beaches and elegant new harbour welcoming luxury cruise liners – is a major cruise ship destination and the epitome of a modern European town. Travellers are spoilt for choice here in terms of leisure and sightseeing opportunities: Kusadasi has everything from aqua parks and thermal resorts to lively markets and state-of-the-art shopping centres. The city’s pulsating terms of its heating which is made by geothermal resources at one single centre (otherwise, another suitable, interesting agricultural visit will be arranged). The seaside city of Canakkale, in north-western Turkey’s Marmara region, boasts lush greenery, wide beaches, and fine restaurants serving a host of traditional Turkish culinary delights. It is often used as a base for exploring Troy and Gallipoli. Troy is believed to be at the site of the mythological Trojan war, and the ruins of a temple, a theatre, city walls and building foundations date back to nine periods of settlement. While Troy boasts its own replica of the Trojan Horse, a second replica, built for the movie Troy, is situated in Canakkale itself near the city’s waterfront promenade. Day 11:  Best Western Hotel Plus The President Hotel, Istanbul

(Mon, 27 April)

Day Itinerary
Our day tour takes us to the former centre of the Ottoman Empire and residence of many Sultans, the world famous Topkapi Palace. The rich art collections and treasury will give you a good idea about the glory of that era. The Aegyptian Bazaar, which is still the largest Spice market today, is one of the most favourite areas of locals to shop. Bosphorus Cruise. Thereafter you will have time to explore the mazes of the world famous Grand Bazaar, the former shopping centre of the Sultans.

Optional farewell dinner. Overnight as day before.

Spice Bazaar
The Spice Bazaar or Egyptian Bazaar is one of the oldest and the second largest covered shopping complex after the Grand Bazaar in Istanbul. The building's construction was completed in 1663 and has an "L" shape. Once all of the shops in the bazaar used to sell spices, but over the time some have turned into jewelers, dried fruit, grocery, carpet, ceramic, trinket shops. Around the Bazaar there is a popular flower market and cafes on the Yeni camii side; fish, vegetable and grocery stores occupy the other side.

Topkapi Palace Museum
Topkapi literally means "the Cannon Gate", so called because of the twin towered pavilion on the sea side was surrounded with cannons. Topkapi palace is the second palace constructed by Mehmet II. The Topkapi Palace was the official and primary residence of the Ottoman Sultans. It was a setting for state occasions and royal entertainments and is a major tourist attraction today.

Bosphorus Strait
Bosphorus is one of the two straits separating two continents: Asia and Europe; and connects two seas: the Black Sea and The Marmara Sea. Bosphorus and its shores are the most beautiful part of Istanbul. Gyllius eloquently describes it as "The first creator of Byzantium, greater and more important than Byzas, the legendary founder of the city".

The strait is about 30 km long and from 670 meters wide at the most narrow part very close to the Rumeli Castle, over three and half kilometres at its widest part. The average depth of the strait is 50-60 meters and very close to the Faith Bridge its depthness reaches to 120 meters. The surface current of the water is 3 to 5 km per hour from Black Sea towards Marmara Sea. And about 35 - 40 meters below the surface a subcurrent exists.
